Dear Sirs:

I am returning herewith your postcard. If you have a client who desires our publications for these two years, it will be less expensive if he were to enroll as an Associate member of the Society. As such he would receive publications for 1931; those for 1930 would total $2.50. We wrote you to a similar effect when your original order was received without having had any response. Unless we have your reply to this inquiry we shall again be unable to act.

Trusting that you will see that the delay is not through fault of ours,
